Protect communications packages, UAS components, camera systems, batteries, sensors, optics, and multi-device kits from moisture exposure during transport, staging, maintenance, and storage. The reusable DRYOUT 25L actively absorbs trapped moisture and pulls it away from sensitive equipment without batteries or external power.

DRYOUT’s patented material absorbs and traps moisture before it contributes to fogging, corrosion, mold, electrical issues, or long-term equipment degradation. Reset and reuse the bag for preventative storage or post-exposure recovery.

FEATURES

- Sized for larger devices and grouped equipment
- Pulls moisture away from sensitive gear
- Supports preventative storage and post-exposure recovery
- Reusable with no batteries or external power
- Portable enough for packs, cases, range bags, and vehicle kits
